FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ARE INTERNS JUST FOR COFFEE RUNS?
Success Trek hires awesome interns.

At many companies, interns are reserved for coffee runs and picking up laundry. At Success Trek, capable interns can step into a number of positions at any moment, where they're given real responsibilities and trusted to accomplish them.

The most recent round of interns includes Michael Patterson, a Valparaiso University MBA student, and Kylee Spier, a Marketing/Management major from Valparaiso University. In the first few weeks of her internship Kylee has already worked on projects in all areas of her personal interests: marketing, writing, and event planning. She has also has improved the company's social media ROI by 700% since she began.

Michael enjoys applying his analytical skills to create efficiencies internally and for clients. His ability to crunch data quickly in Excel for any situation is invaluable. Both interns work virtually to give them the flexibility needed to work around a busy student schedule.

Success Trek is an award-winning organizational development firm in Northwest Indiana. Their experienced, hands-on consultants partner with non-profit and for profit leaders to provide organizational assessments and solution based approaches to companies looking to enhance their strategic roadmap for success. Success Trek's areas of expertise include; streamlining processes, driving improved efficiencies & effectiveness, increasing employee retention, and maximizing leadership potential with judicious and experienced executive coaching. Whether the goal is large transformational changes or discreet operational improvements, Success Trek has much to share with serious interns looking for true hands-on business experience.
